

2018 Agronomy Conference
"Agronomy in the digital age"

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 2018 Agronomy Society Conference will be held jointly with the NZ Grassland Association in Twizel from November 6-8, 2018.

We are now calling for papers on all aspects of crop agronomy in a NZ production context. Papers which consider the role of digitization on the practice of agronomic management are strongly encouraged.

Topics of interest may include (but are not limited too):

- Data collection and analysis
- Decision support systems
- Variable rate agronomic management
- Redesigning production systems
- Water allocation and crop water use
- Nutrient use efficiency and fertiliser management
- Delivering higher value crops
- Modelling crops and pastures
- Climate change impacts and adaptation
- Seed, vegetable and forage production

Key dates are:

Title submissions due (extended date)	27 April 2018
Full manuscript due	15 June 2018
2018 Agronomy NZ proceedings published	November 2018

Titles should be submitted using the attached template to:

sharon.woodward@xtra.co.nz

(for further information call +64 021820479)

Manuscript Formatting and other information relating to publishing a paper with the Agronomy Society can be found on our website: www.agronomysociety.org.nz.

Please forward this call for papers to other colleagues and students who may be interested in submitting a paper.
